

Chief Officer, Social Services Flintshire County Council

Flintshire is a leading unitary council in Wales and the largest in North Wales. We have an outstanding reputation in the fields of social housing, community development and welfare.

We have an exciting opportunity to lead and develop our Social Services portfolio and its services with the imminent retirement of the existing post holder.

As part of a close and effective senior team, you will help to develop a strong corporate focus and a coherent corporate culture across the authority.

Responsible for discharging and delivering the Council's statutory duties with regards to Adult and Children's social care, including the role of Director of Social Services. We are looking for a strategic leader with excellent people skills and a track record of leading cultural change, sound financial management and ensuring effective governance. You will be an effective communicator with experience of collaborative and partnership working, gained within a complex social care environment.

If you are a strong, visible, and inspirational leader with a passion for delivering services to support the people in Flintshire, we would love to hear from you.
